- Overall, the collaboration fostered different types of communication skills and positive interdependence of the teams across disciplines in order to contribute to the success of the project.

When I was at Taylor's, I gained many opportunities to apply my classroom knowledge through research activities and to enhance my scientific communication and management skills by being a teaching assistant and as a student leader during open days. While these skills had greatly helped me in both my job as a communications intern at GlaxoSmithKline pharmaceuticals, and as an executive cum Mandarin translator at LYC Healthcare Berhad, my greatest take was being taught by lecturers whom have nurtured and till this day inspire me to become a medical scientist in the future.

Joining Taylor's food science programme was a great experience for me. Their modules covered a wide range of subjects that are relevant to the food industry. I get to apply what I learned during my compulsory internship and of course, my current project. What's important is that now I know how to think like a food scientist. I understand what compulsory elements are to be considered in food production and critically analyse topics on food science, thanks to my final-year project where I got to produce a food product from scratch. Overall, this programme equipped me with in-depth knowledge of the food industry and hands-on experience which is definitely a highlight in my education journey.

The semester I spent at Manchester Metropolitan University (MMU) in the UK as an exchange student was truly eye-opening. I was able to fully immerse myself into the British lifestyle while gaining new knowledge and skills with the courses at MMU. Since Manchester is so diverse, I had the opportunity to befriend many international students and learn about their culture as well. I was able to visit a few countries besides England such as Scotland, Denmark and Spain. As it was during winter, I experienced snow for the first time in my life and it was truly a wonderful semester spent abroad.

Being able to work in a prestigious company like F&N was really an eye-opening experience. I was able to be involved in the real life production of the beverages that we have been drinking since young, gaining technical knowledge that is really useful in my career field. I was glad to have met some friends and seniors who'd made me into the man of steel today.

So Zu Min (Right, green shirt)

So Zu Min
Yeo Hiap Seng

The good thing about my internship is that I got a lot of hands-on experience. I have a chance to work with the supervisors and workers in production line, going through every detail. Also, there are a lot of things I learned from class that I am applying at work. For example a lot of the theories that I explored in class have helped me analyse the situations I have been in. In addition, I met a lot of friends there and all the people there treated me very nice.

INTERNSHIP EXPERIENCE: BIOTECHNOLOGY

Cosmeceutical Technology Sdn. Bhd.

Chong Ee Seng
Apex Cosmeceutical Technology Sdn. Bhd.

The internship was a golden opportunity for me to experience the career world. I had my internship with a biotechnology company. The nature of the company was similar to what I have learned at Taylor's University. I got to learn the fermentation process and it gave me a new exposure towards the real working environment. Overall, I have learned to become a self-motivated individual. The CEO of Apex Cosmeceutical Technology has always been supportive in providing guidances. Through that, I have developed a positive attitude towards career and personal life.

Muhammad Zayd Khairil Anwar
Plant Biotechnology Incubator Unit

For the past 3 months I have been given the chance to improve my knowledge involving plant tissue culture as well as spread knowledge about plant tissue cultures, not only to students and academicians, but to the public as well. I have had the chance to be involved in workshops demonstrating the benefits of plant tissue culture as well as educating farmers regarding the benefits of plants propagated through tissue culture technique. Besides workshops, I had the chance to micropropagate Musa acuminata cultivar Berangan by using suckers as explant material, as well as culturing Zingiber zerumbet Smith, commonly known as Lempoyang as a mini project. This mini project has given me large insights on plant tissue culture and the challenges faced by scientists in this field. I am grateful to have been given this chance to do my internship at Plant Biotechnology Incubator Unit.

Lee Wai Leong
Novonesis Malaysia Sdn Bhd

Having my internship in Novozymes Malaysia really gave me a whole new experience. I was assigned to work in the Global Oils and Fats Lab which gave me the opportunity to deal with international projects. Besides that, I was exposed to many different lab analyses that I never worked on before. For example, using the auto-titrator to check for free fatty acid percentage, checking the pH of water extract, moisture determination, solid fat content determination, peroxide value determination and more. In addition, enzymes were applied in some of the projects such as enzymatic degumming and enzymatic interesterification processes. Furthermore, Novozymes Malaysia gave me the opportunity to attend all the meetings including international meetings with the CEO of Novozymes. I made a lot of new friends and expanded my circle of network. Other than the normal work, Novozymes also organised other events to further enrich my experience here in Novozymes such as Smoothie Day, Zumba Workout, Yoga Fitness, International Women's Day, Chinese New Year Celebration, monthly birthday celebration and making my Valentine's Day so sweet. Thus, having my internship here in Novozymes Malaysia has really enriched my experience throughout these three months.

SHORT-TERM MOBILITY PROGRAMME

This programme provides a unique opportunity for students to learn about other cultures, while focusing on various aspects of their studies.

Lim Yee Hung

Student exchange programme to Masaryk University, Czech Republic

Thanks to the funds provided by ERASMUS+, I could conduct my semester exchange from February to July 2018 in the Czech Republic. I arrived at Prague on 10th February and was studying at Masaryk University, Brno. The lectures were conducted mainly with discussions involving students and allowed brainstorming sessions. I was studying Psychology and Sport Science. It was fabulous to step out my comfort zone to explore and gain different knowledge. The culinary culture of the Czech Republic also attracted me a lot. Czech locals taught me the ways of cooking and the outcomes turned out to be very good. They also invited me to some special festivals like Czech Beer Festival, Walpurgis Night and so on. I enjoyed a lot as I made lots of friends from all walks of life during this journey. This journey improved my social and communication skills, ensured peace of mind, broadened my horizon, enhanced my tolerance towards uncertainties, boosted my confidence and aided me to get to know myself.

Saw Kai Xuan

Student exchange programme to RMIT, Australia

I'm truly grateful to have this wonderful one-semester exchange programme which gave me the precious chance to interact with amazing people from all around the globe. Undoubtedly, this exchange programme has widened my knowledge and enhanced my skill sets especially in term of adaptation, communication and global perspective. Thanks to Taylor's University and RMIT for adding these priceless memories in my life!

Corine Teo Sze Xuan

Student exchange programme to University of Applied Sciences, Upper Australia

It was a fruitful exchange experience in my university life. Meeting international friends, experiencing western culture, sharing international ideas and being independent really made me grow a lot. I feel grateful having this chance to explore the outside world!

Julian Tay

My six weeks in UWE Bristol was nothing short of an insightful experience. From listening to the team's past experiences to conducting my own experiments, I enjoyed it all. The main topic during my time here is 'volatile compounds for disease diagnostics'. Though I did not work on their ongoing research as their main machine broke down, I got first-hand experience with other useful devices, namely a commercial breath analyser and one that the professors made themselves. These devices mainly measure volatiles in the breath such as hydrogen, methane, ammonia and so on. During the programme, I got the opportunity to plan and conduct a few experiments on my own, without direct influence or supervision by the professor. Not being told what to do means I had creative freedom over what I wanted to do during my time here with what I had available. I even got the opportunity to talk to a higher up from Bedfont Scientific. The time outside the lab was equally enjoyable too! Having the opportunity to live and travel alone will always teach you a thing or two about living independently, especially in an unknown environment.

Jesvinder Jeet Kaur

Programme field trip to Anatomy Museum

Anatomy museum is meant to be a place of science for future learning and discovery of new medical technologies to cure certain diseases. I enjoyed the trip and learned a lot as I was able to observe certain human organs which we learned in the classroom. I also gained knowledge on the discovery of new organ by an Irish surgeon in a human body named mesentery which connects the intestine and the abdomen. In a nutshell, I believe that a human body has an amazing structure and function.

Ong Chon Phin

Student helper of AstraZeneca Public Health Campaign

The cruciality and necessity of health awareness is not only limited to the older generation but also to the younger ones. The collaboration between the School of Biosciences and AstraZeneca on the Health Campaign have been insightful and enjoyable! I have learnt more about the health screening instruments and devices from the hands-on experience and it is truly an amazing experience.

Jonathan Bryan Lee Yi-Zhong

Student exchange programme to Sheffield Hallam University, UK

My exchange to the UK has been an eye-opening experience. I learnt a lot from the large and consistently evolving food industry in the European region as well as learnt new things from the way Nutrition was taught due to the different challenges faced by people in the West. I managed to make new friends from all over the world and had new and exciting experiences with them while visiting beautiful locations in the UK.

Elaine Lee

Taylor's Biotech student

My internship at Lab-Ind Resource and GeneSeq was a very pleasant experience, and I was fortunate to secure a placement here. Apprenticeship in an industrial company has given me tremendous opportunity to learn and grow as a biotech undergraduate.

Joshua Lee Voon Kai

Taylor's biotech student

Through its long term commitment to research in human stem cells and tissue regeneration, interning at CryoCord in the R&D field has enabled me to experience the workflow of applied research in the private sector.

Yap Chien Yee (Food Science)
Mac Food

My internship at Mac Food was great learning experience that I thoroughly enjoyed. I gained a lot of knowledge and valuable experiences through working in the office as well as in the production line. My tasks included data collection, quality assurance, production hygiene analysis and evaluate the performance of production worker. Working at Mac Food had given me the first hand opportunity to look into the processing of the meat from preparation to packing of end product. Besides, I got to know the importance of standard operating procedure which acts as a guideline for employee's work processes. Throughout the course of my six months internship, my communication skills and problem-solving skills had greatly improved. To conclude, the internship has given me a better outlook into what I would want to pursue in the future.

Long Wenxin (Food Science)
Mac Food

Mac Food gave me the opportunity to have a closer insight of how food industries work. As a R&D intern, I was able to research on latest market trends, subsequently provide valuable ideas for the development of innovative food products. Throughout the six months as an intern, I was heavily involved in sample preparation in the kitchen, this has greatly improved my culinary skills. It was also an eye opening experience for me as I got to expand my technical knowledge and apply what I have learnt from university. I am grateful that this internship has provided me with the experience to equip myself for my career in the future. Mac Food is truly a good platform to learn, and to witness how all our favourite foods are made, from scratch.

Kellen Xu (Food Science)
MyBurgerLab

It was an incredible journey when I joined myBurgerLab as an intern. As an R&D intern, I had learned not only about product development but also dealing with real business. One of the successful projects as an intern was the launch of a monthly feature burger, Salmonster, which was a hit that sold approximately 600 pieces within a week. Not only was the project both fun and challenging, but I was blessed with a supportive supervisor and friendly working environment which made my internship journey more exciting. To add on, I was grateful for being given the trust and chance to work on big projects with invaluable feedback from the supervisor and co-founder for improving my skills.

What Our Students Say

Bernard Yap
American Degree Transfer Program (Computer Science major)

My most impactful experience at Taylor's is working with mentors at Taylor's Me.reka Makerspace (TMM), who provided me guidance, free resources, and tools to build Pinky the Umbrella Borrowing Machine, inspired by a random act of kindness.

Jizen Loh
Bachelor of Mass Communication (Honours) in Public Relations and Marketing

My achievements in fencing got me Taylor's Sports Scholarship, for which I'm truly grateful. At Taylor's, I was able to fulfil my vision of creating affordable quality niche sports goods by collaborating with my peers and becoming an entrepreneur.

Zara Basyirah
Bachelor of Software Engineering (Honours)

At Taylor's, I led projects focusing on education equality and mental health. My lecturer even gave me the opportunity to lead a project hosting high school students for STEM exploration. Learning leadership skills helped me overcome challenges in leading my startup.

Julius Ho
Bachelor of Computer Science (Honours)

I'm grateful for the BizPod mentors' pitching feedback and connections to investors in running my startup. It enabled me to overcome challenges and bring a new perspective to parking even though I graduated with a non-business degree.

Shahmala Rani
Bachelor of Actuarial Studies (Honours)

I'm grateful for the many opportunities to learn in various fields – from being a RISERS Ambassador to discovering my passion for teaching through Peer Assisted Learning (PALS), to balancing my role as a national karate athlete.
